DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE TRIFECTA AWARD WINNER FOR SUPPORTING OUR AMERICAN WARFIGHTER

DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE: FREEDOM AWARD

Gene Lumsden, President and CEO of Legacy Sports International, was one of only fifteen employers in the country awarded the highest recognition in the nation given by the U.S. Government to employers for their support of their employees who serve in the National Guard and Reserve. Along with the other fourteen top employers of the military, Legacy Sports International was selected from more than 2500 spectacular nominations of small businesses, government agencies and many larger companies.

Mr. Lumsden (photo centered) received the Freedom Award for hiring a new employee who was recovering at Walter Reed Army Medical Center for two years after being injured in Iraq. Boone Cutler recovered at Walter Reed and was left without a way to support his family following his medical discharge due to injuries he sustained in combat. Cutler stated, "I didn't have a way to provide for my family anymore and figured the only way I could take care of them was to kill myself so they could get the insurance money, I was just fed up with fighting the post-combat life changes and didn't care anymore . . . then Gene called and offered me a job."

Legacy Sports International made allowances for Mr. Cutler to work while he continued to rehabilitate after being discharged and Gene paid for Cutler's family to relocate to Nevada from California. "Gene put me on the payroll before I even started working when I was still a patient at Walter Reed. When I finally started to work he gave me the keys to the building and told me to work around my injuries," said Cutler. Mr. Cutler had a position created for him with Legacy Sports International by Gene Lumsden and it saved his life. Cutler explained, "Who calls a hospital and hires a combat veteran with serious medical conditions and a head injury for no reason other than kindness; suicide is a real issue for us because a Warfighter without a mission is a dead Warfighter. I will be eternally grateful to Gene and Legacy Sports for giving me a mission in life after the military."

Legacy Sports International has also contributed more than $20,000 to the Wounded Warrior Project through the sale of a commemorative Wounded Warrior Project rifle and is currently doing the same with a 1911 Wounded Warrior Project pistol.

According to Gene Lumsden, "I just feel fortunate to be in a position to do something with my company to help make sure the people that fight for us are taken care of. The award is nice but when I joined the Army in the 60's I took the same oath that these Warfighters take today. It's my pleasure and my duty to stay in good company and do what I can to bear true faith and allegiance to the bravest of this generation."

The Freedom Award was presented to Gene during a formal ceremony at the Ronald Reagan Building and International Trade Center in Washington, D.C. in September 2010.

Legacy Sports has also contributed more than $20,000 to the Wounded Warrior Project.

DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE: PRO PATRIA AWARD

Gene Lumsden, President and CEO of Legacy Sports International, was recognized by the Department of Defense with the highest award bestowed in the State of Nevada for employers that support our nation's Warfighters.

The Pro Patria Award is presented annually by each (ESGR) Employer Support of the Guard and Reserve Committee to the ONE employer in their state or territory who has provided the most exceptional support of our national defense through leadership practices and personnel policies that support their employees who serve in the National Guard and Reserve Force.

DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE: PATRIOT AWARD

In 2010, Gene Lumsden, President and CEO of Legacy Sports International received the Patriot Award from the National Committee for (ESGR) Employer Support of the Guard and Reserve. The Patriot Award is designed to recognize employers who support a strong National Guard and Reserve force. Employers qualify for recognition when they practice leadership and personnel policies that support employee participation in the Guard and Reserve. The Patriot Award is the first level of recognition to employers and makes employers eligible for the higher State and National level Awards.

Every employer nominated for recognition will receive the Patriot Award, and will then be eligible for consideration for other awards and recognition based on their level of support described in the nomination narrative.

Awardees of the Patriot Award meet the following criteria:

- Demonstrates support for service in the National Guard and Reserve
- Publicly acknowledges the contributions of Reserve component employees to our Nation's defense
- Supports Guard & Reserve employees beyond USERRA law requirements
- Supports Guard & Reserve employee families during mobilizations

GET THE MOST OUT OF YOUR HOWA!

HOWA RECOMMENDED BREAK-IN PROCEDURE

For the first ten shots we recommend using jacketed bullets with a nitro powder load (Most Factory Ammo). Clean the oil out of the barrel before each shot using a simple window cleaner (like Windex®) which will soak the oil out of the pores. After firing each cartridge, use a good copper cleaner (one with ammonia) to remove the copper fouling from the barrel. We do not recommend anything with an abrasive in it since you are trying to seal the barrel, not keep it agitated.

After cleaning with bore cleaner, clean again with window cleaner after each shot. Use window cleaner because many bore cleaners use a petroleum base which you want to remove before firing the next shot. This will keep the carbon from building up in the barrel (oil left in the pores, when burned, turns to carbon).

To keep the temperature cool in the barrel, wait at least 5 minutes between break-in shots. The barrel must remain cool during the break-in procedure. If the barrel is allowed to heat up during the break-in, it will destroy the steel's ability to develop a home registration point, or memory. It will have a tendency to make the barrel "walk" when it heats up in the future. We have all seen barrels that, as they heat up, start to shoot high and then "walk" to the right. This was caused by improperly breaking in the barrel (generally by sitting at a bench rest and shooting 20 rounds in 5 minutes or so). If you take a little time in the beginning and do it right, you will be much more pleased with the barrel in the future.

Look into the end of the barrel after firing a shot, and you will see a light copper-colored wash in the barrel. Remove this before firing the next shot. Somewhere during the procedure, around shot 6 or 7, it will be obvious that the copper color is no longer appearing in the barrel. Continue the window cleaner and bore cleaner applications through shot 10.

Following the initial ten shots, you then may shoot 2 rounds, cleaning between each pair of shots, for the next 10 shots. This is simply insuring that the burnishing process has been completed. In theory, you are closing the pores of the barrel metal that have been opened and exposed through the cutting and hand lapping procedures.

HOWA ADVANCEMENTS FOR 2011

NEW BLACK BOLT ON ALL MODELS

For 2011, all blued Howa M-1500 rifles will feature a blued bolt in lieu of a polished, bright bolt. The blued bolt makes your Howa rifle stand out, and really looks good in all rifle stocks.

If you choose a stainless model rifle, your bolt will have a matte silver finish.

NEW FLOOR PLATE ETCHED WITH THE HOWA LOGO

A "cool factor" feature on all new Howa M-1500's for 2011 is the addition of an etched floor plate for the magazine. Your new Howa rifle will stand out with a gold filled Howa logo on blued models, and a black filled Howa logo on stainless model rifles. Show your Howa pride, and keep your buddies from pulling your gun from the rack at the range or hunting camp!

NEW DETACHABLE MAGAZINES FOR YOUR HOWA OR WEATHERBY VANGUARD

Get more firepower from your Howa M-1500® or your Weatherby® Vanguard®! These new removable magazines from Adaptive Technologies, Inc. are available in 10 round capacities for your .223 or .308 caliber Howa M-1500 or Weatherby Vanguard, with .22-250 coming soon! Made for target shooters and varmint hunters, these polymer body magazines allow you to turn your four round box magazine into a high capacity detachable. Available for aftermarket conversions only, the new magazines come with a special trigger guard housing that replaces the existing floorplate of your Howa M-1500 or Vanguard. Will fit Smith & Wesson and Mossberg Howas. Call us at 1-800-553-4229 for ordering details!

ADDITION OF FLUTED BARRELS

For 2011, select models of Howa M-1500 rifles will be available with an optional fluted barrel. Fluted barrels reduce weight and dissipate heat more quickly than non-fluted barrels of the same outside diameter. This means your rifle is easier to carry and to control during shooting, and repeated, rapidly fired rounds will not heat the inside of the barrel for as long a period, or as hot as the same number of rounds fired through a non-fluted barrel.

"I own two Howa rifles, an Axiom .22-250 and a Howa/Hogue .270. Out of all the firearms I own, I can say that you won't find another rifle and scope package that shoots as accurately and comfortably for the value. I was recently at a local shooting facility checking to see where my rifles were shooting since both of them had been sighted in off the back of a pickup. The results were outstanding."

HOWA LAMINATE AMBIVARMINTER & THUMBHOLE VARMINTER

Howa Thumbhole Varminter, Woodland

Five Short Action Calibers

The Varminter and Thumbhole Varminter are made of tough, wood laminate. Both models are available in our Woodland stock color and are equipped with 24 inch heavy (#6 contour) barrels.

The Thumbhole Varminter is ambidextrous in design and the large, open thumbhole accommodates even the heaviest hunting glove. A vertical pistol grip provides comfort and ease of handling, as well as better recoil response. The broad, beavertail forend is great for stability and balance when target shooting, and its large vents rapidly dissipate barrel heat.

HOWA THUMBHOLE SPORTER

Five Short Action Calibers, Four Long Action Calibers and Four Magnum Calibers

The Thumbhole Sporter is a lightweight wood laminate stock based on the Thumbhole Varminter design. With a more traditional forend, the Thumbhole Sporter decreases weight. Yet, the stock still offers a large thumbhole to accommodate heavy gloves. The vertical pistol grip provides a comfortable grip and sure handling with more control over recoil. Sport shooters and hunters will appreciate the improved control and quicker target acquisition the vertical pistol grip provides. Available in our Woodland color with 22 inch, standard (#2 contour) barrel in blued or stainless finish.

Four Popular Calibers

The Model 1892 is the pistol caliber rifle designed by John M. Browning and has been a favorite with hunters for 100 years. It was lighter, stronger and faster than previous lever guns made in the 19th Century. Puma M-92's are built by Chiappa in Italy to the Browning specifications. These beauties are tops in fit and finish, using high grade Italian walnut stocks and steel proofed for modern ammunition. Available in blued or color case hardened finish, round barrel carbines come in 16" and 20" barrel lengths with 9 and 10 round magazine capacities, respectively. The octagonal barrel rifles come in 20" or 24" barrel lengths in blued or color case hardened finish. Both octagonal barrel rifles hold 10 rounds in the magazine. A factory magazine tube plug is included with all M-92's, limiting capacity to five rounds, but is easily removed for full magazine capacities. All are available in four calibers: .357 Mag., .44/40, .44 Mag. and .45 Colt.

Hard Hitting .45-70 Gov't. Caliber

A favorite with hunters and Cowboy Action Long Range shooters, the Model 1886 comes in 22" or 26" octagonal barrel lengths. Made by Chiappa of Italy, the M-86 is chambered in the powerful .45-70 Gov't. cartridge. The M-86 is an accurate reproduction of the John Browning design, using 21st Century technology. Metallurgy and ROT are compatible with today's ammunition, and all parts are interchangeable due to exacting production tolerances.

BOUNTY HUNTER & M-87 SHOTGUNS

Puma Bounty Hunter

Excellent Fit and Finish

ASSEMBLED IN THE USA

BOUNTY HUNTER

A piece of 1950's TV nostalgia, the Bounty Hunter is a reproduction of the gun carried by Western character Josh Randall in the series "Wanted: Dead or Alive". The Bounty Hunter is based on a Model 92 rifle, but is considered by Federal Law as a pistol, because it is built from the ground up as a handgun.

Manufactured in the U.S.A. by Chiappa Firearms of Dayton, OH, the Bounty Hunter features a 12" barrel and 6 round tubular magazine. At just 24" OAL, the Bounty Hunter makes an ideal pack gun or camp defense pistol. The Bounty Hunter has a teardrop shaped loop lever and is built with the same fit, finish and high grade Italian walnut stocks as our Puma M-92 and M-86 rifles. Available in .44/40, .44 Magnum and .45 Colt calibers. (Gun Leather Sold Separately; See pp. 36 – 37).

M-1887 SHOTGUNS

Designed by John Browning for Winchester Repeating Arms, the Model 1887 was considered the first successful repeating shotgun. This lever action shotgun is available in two barrel lengths - 22" and 28" - both with color case hardened finish. Equipped with 5 shot magazines, these shotguns are fun and effective for use in the field as a hunting gun. In addition, we are offering a Fast Load version in 22" barrel, only, that has been factory modified to accept two rounds through the breech - an ideal characteristic for Cowboy Action Shooting. All three versions of the shotgun also employ a highly effective ejection system that removes spent rounds and rechambers a new, live round in a few seconds.

The Puma M-1911-22 is a rimfire version of the famous and popular M-1911. It is extremely accurate and is weighted and sized just like a full size M-1911. It makes a great practice gun for IDPA or IPSC shooters and Cowboy Action "Wild Bunch" participants. Economical to purchase – and to shoot – the M-1911-22 also makes a great carry gun for hikers and fishermen, and for general plinking.

Great for Plinking or Training!

The Puma M-1911-22 comes with two-piece wooden grips that are interchangeable with standard 1911 grip panels. Sights are standard G.I. configuration and are also interchangeable with 1911 .45 sights. It has a 5 inch barrel with a 1:16" rate of twist.

The M-1911-22 weighs 38 ounces. It is designed to shoot .22 LR cartridges and has a magazine capacity of 10 rounds. Each pistol is factory tested for accuracy and reliability, and can achieve groups of .75" to 1.5" at 25 feet.

M-1873 .22 CALIBER REVOLVER

With the frame size and weight of a Single Action Army revolver, the M-1873 makes a great practice gun for Cowboy Action or an ideal carry gun for camping, hiking or fishing. The hammer is made to traditional SAA appearance and feel. A key-operated, hammer block safety is standard on the left side of the recoil shield.

The M-1873 comes in three barrel lengths: 4.75", 5.5" and 7.5" and also comes with a magnum cylinder. The M-1873 is offered in matte black or antiqued finish. Construction is of alloy and steel with wood or plastic grips (depending on model).

CITADEL™ M-1 CARBINE

Weight: 4.8 lbs.

Available in .22 LR Caliber

Straight from the pages of history . . . the greatest conflict of modern times, World War II . . . comes the new Citadel M-1 carbine. Built to the exacting specifications of the G.I. model used by U.S. infantrymen in both WWII theaters of battle and in Korea, this reproduction rifle comes to you chambered in the fun and economical .22 LR cartridge.

Used by officers as well as tankers, drivers, artillery crews, mortar crews, and other personnel in lieu of the larger, heavier M1 Garrand rifle, the M-1 carbine weighed only 4.5 to 4.75 pounds. The Citadel M-1, made by Chiappa in Italy, weighs in at 4.8 lbs. – nearly the exact weight of the original. Barrel length and OAL are also the same as the “United States Carbine, Caliber .30, M1”, its official military designation.

I must admit...I am very much in love with my Escort! After shooting 3 boxes of shells in 1 day, I'm pleased and actually very shocked to admit I'm not the least bit sore. I love the weight of the gun and I was actually expecting quite a bit of recoil from it. Madda! It hits dead on with a nice pattern. I was using the skeet choke and it was great. Couldn't be more happy with it. It feels like it was built just for me. I doubt I could have found a better shotgun. - Misty Nettles, Southern Women Outdoors

Nikko Stirling®

TARGETMASTER

Nikko Stirling has introduced a totally new Targetmaster series. In redesigning this series, features desired by Tactical or Competitive users have been included. Targetmaster provides the highest level of optical performance that will improve your shooting scores and results.

Available in four variable zoom models that allow the user to adjust the magnification required. The main body of the scope is a 30mm hard alloy tube that provides added strength and light transmission over one inch rifle scopes. The lenses are coated in ETE Mirolux, which allow maximum light transmission so you see the target faster, clearer and with more contrast. The adjustments are target-style; just pull out gently and turn to the desired setting. Push down again to lock. You can also return the dial setting to zero without special tools so you can be ready in the field to accurately compensate as required for both windage and elevation.

All Targetmaster rifle scopes feature side parallax and focus adjustment. Also located on the side is the switch for the illumination of the reticle. Fast focus eyepieces allow you to adjust the scope to suit your eye strength.
